Mrs. Pingga, the woman victim of the shooting, keeps a candy store at No. 442 East Thirteenth Street, and it was in front of her place that the trouble took place.

After two hours' investigation the police concluded from the mass of stories they heard and evidence mathered, that the row occurred over the purchase of an ear of corn by Joseph Bonato, one of the wounded men. Bonato, they say, went across rot into an altercation with the round of the Ali-Comers' Tennis The street to buy the ear of corn and oman and her son-in-law, Tony Duocle, another of the victims.

Bonato was stabbed in the back. Bonato then went to his home and returned in a few minutes with his brother, Ignacio. Almost immediately the shooting began. Some of the witpeace say that others participated in the shooting. Still another story is the sheeting. GERMANY MAY DISAVOW SINKING OF THE STEAMER

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 6 .- Capt. Main, of the Hesperlan, made the statement to-day that the vessel had been torpedoed and that no warning was given.

LONDON, Sept. 6 .- A despatch this afternoon from United States Consul Wesley Frost, stationed at Queenstown, said twenty lives were probably lost on the Allan liner Hesperian, which sank the morning, thirty-four hours after she hit a mine or was torpedoed last Saturday evening. He said the steamer sank at 6.40 o'clock not the from the scene of the explosion.

Another despatch said thirteen passengers were missing. These, it was said, included one first cabin passenger, six second cabin and six third class. The other seven victims were probably among the crew.

A woman's body has been identified as that of Miss Carberry probably of Newfoundland. It was said that another woman had died after boarding a rescue ship. One despatch said that an eleven-months old baby had died.

Earlier reports had indicated that all of the passengers and crew

A despatch from Amsterdam said a report from Berlin stated Germany might disavow the attack on the Hesperian If English reports of the circumstances are corroborated by her submarine commander.

Germany's explanation, the despatch said, would be that if a subdead in her apartment at No. 157 East marine torpedoed the liner without warning it was because the U-boot had left its base before the new instructions were issued through the admiralty. Capt. Main and a volunteer crew-
